

SERIOUS RIOTS FOLLOW MAY DAY DEMONSTRATIONS

One Killed and Many Are Injured at Cleveland

CLEVELAND, May 1.—An unidentified man was killed by a detective's bullet, eleven policemen were shot or badly beaten and about 100 persons wounded, many seriously, in general rioting following a Socialist May day demonstration here today. About thirty persons, seriously injured, are in hospitals tonight, while scores of others, including women, were trampled by rioters and clubbed by police.

Socialists and sympathizers were ridden down by mounted police and by soldiers in army tanks and trucks, and socialist headquarters was wrecked.

The one fatality occurred when a mob of socialists, or sympathizers, rushed Detective Woodring and other officers. Woodring fired at the alleged leader of the mob, the bullet passing thru the man's neck, killing him instantly.

Sixty of the rioters were arrested. A score were found to have weapons on them, police say.

A mob of several hundred of the rioters threatened police headquarters when C. E. Ruthenberg, socialist leader and former socialist candidate for mayor, was arrested, and for more than an hour the entire downtown section of the city was a seething mass of socialists, police, civilians and soldiers.

Many Shots Fired.

Dozens of shots were fired in Public Square, where more than twenty thousand socialists and sympathizers assembled for a May day rally and to protest against the convictions of Eugene V. Debs and Thomas J. Mooney.

The trouble started in Superior avenue when the head of one of the five socialist parades, scheduled to meet at Public Square, was stopped, and Liberty Loan workers and an army lieutenant tore a red flag from a man at the head of the marchers, practically every one of whom were carrying red flags.

The trouble in the Public Square started when Lieut. H. S. Bergen, who served with the 89th division overseas, demanded that several soldiers among the socialists on the platform, remove their uniforms or the red flags they wore on their breasts.

The soldiers refused and Lieut. Bergen, followed by Lieut. John Harty, of Detroit, mounted the platform and tore the red insignia from the soldiers. The act was the signal for a grand rush by thousands of socialist sympathizers.

Mounted police, who had rushed to other riot calls, dashed back to the Public Square and rode down the fighting mob, using their clubs right and left. Several shots were fired by socialist sympathizers. The mounted police and several soldiers manning an army tank and two big trucks, charged pell-mell into the battle, dispersing the mob.

Score Arrests in Chicago.

Chicago, May 1.—Nearly a score of arrests were made in the May day demonstrations of radicals in Chicago today. An all day rain and police activity had the effect of quenching any revolutionary fires that may have been struggling for expression.

The day's developments were as follows:

Mounted policemen charged and dispersed a crowd of socialist who attempted to march to a hall. They were allowed to hold a meeting. Two policemen were attacked by members of a crowd outside a hall where radicals were holding a meeting and a near riot resulted. Sixteen men and one woman were arrested.

Red flags appeared on two elevated railway stations, on flag-staffs in two parks and on a technical college building. They were removed.

Hand bills printed in red ink and bearing among other inscriptions the words "Walk today, follow the red flag," were scattered in small numbers in several sections of the city.

Philip J. Barry, chief of the local bureau of investigation of the department of justice, received a letter signed, "Committee of the Bolshevik Party," threatening "you will get the same as the Russian czar." Mr. Barry didn't take it seriously.

Officials of the newly formed labor party issued a statement that an attempt to discredit labor and radicalism had been made and the recently discovered plot to kill government officials an prominent citizens by bombs sent thru the mails was "a plant by hirelings of Wall Street."

At a meeting at I. W. W. headquarters speakers attacked President Wilson and the Victory Loan.

U. S. Expenses Still Running Billion a Month

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Nearly six months after the signing of the armistice, America's war expenses not only are continuing with unabated force, but actually are increasing over those of the past few months. This was shown today by a treasury report of government outlays for April, amounting to approximately $1,420,000,000, of which about two-thirds went to pay the nation's direct war bills and one third to the allies to enable them to pay obligations incurred in this country.

The gradual mounting of war expenses from month to month following the big drop from around 2,000,000,000 a month last December and January to $1,189,000,000 in February was cited by treasury officials as a substantial reason why the Victory Loan must be generously subscribed. The increase is attributed to the gradual settling of manufacturers' accounts by the war department and by the higher demand of the allies for credits.

The tremendous outlays in April raised the United States actual expenditures since the nation entered war to about $30,500,000,000. About $9,000,000,000 of this has gone to the allies and will be repaid. Without war the government's expenses probably would not have been more than three billion dollars in the two years officials believe. On this basis, it is indicated the government has passed something like $18,500,000,000 across the counter for war materials, army equipment and supplies, merchant ships, navy vessels and the "overhead" costs of maintaining a big fighting machine. The government has on hand, and salvaging of considerable government property some officials hope to get as much as $2,000,000,000. Net war costs will be reduced by that sum whatever it may prove to be.

War savings stamps sales are falling lower and lower. In April they amounted to about $9,500,000. In March they were $10,143,000; in February $15,816,000; in January $20,996,000.

For each of the last six months of 1918 sales were on an average of $100,000,000. After the Victory Loan campaign the distribution of war savings stamps will become more systematic and will increase the treasury believes. Officials admit that if the sales do not increase materially the war savings organization will be forced to disband.

AMERICANS PLANNING FOR ATLANTIC FLIGHT

NEW YORK, May 1.—Three giant hydro-airplanes of the American navy will start on a date yet to be announced, probably early next week, on a 3,125 mile flight, in four stages, to the British Isles. The trans-Atlantic venture, details of which were announced today by Commandant John H. Towers, in charge of the expedition, is a contemplated cruise in two stages aggregating 2,150 miles from Trepassey bay, New Foundland, to Lisbon, Portugal, while the projected American and European coastal "legs" extend from Rockaway Point, L. I., to Trepassey and from Lisbon to Plymouth, Eng.

Flying at an estimated average speed of 75 miles an hour (65 nautical miles the squadron, driven by Liberty motors, expected to arise from Rockaway to Halifax, without a stop, Commander Towers said. It then will proceed to Trepassey on the southeastern tip of New Foundland.

The second and longest jump, the commander stated, would be from Trepassey to Horta, on the island of Fayal, in the Azores, 1,200 miles, or if the conditions were favorable to Punta del Gado on the island of San Miguel, also in the Azores, 1,350 miles from New Foundland.

SANGAMON COUNTY NOW BONE DRY

DIVERNON, Ill., May 1.—The whole of Sangamon county is officially "dry." The saloons of this city closed their doors today, and will no longer exist, theoretically. The closing hours last night were without any unusual happenings.

The women's vote, a month ago resulted in the town going "dry." The men's vote was in favor of remaining "wet," but the women's vote carried. This is the second time Divernon has been in a "dry" spell, the town having been in the "dry" column for two years, some time ago.

Eight saloons were in the town.

STATE REGISTER NOW EVENING PAPER

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 1.—The Illinois State Register, one of the oldest morning newspapers in the state, published its first issue today as an afternoon daily. For more than 50 years the newspaper has devoted itself to the morning field. The paper which is a member of the Associated Press, relinquished its claims on the morning field for the evening field. This gives Springfield two evening dailies, the other being the News-Record, also a member of the Associated Press.

OUTLOOK FOR "V" LOAN NOT VERY PROMISING

Over Half Time Gone Only One Fourth Subscribed

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Only $164,392,000 additional subscriptions to the Victory Liberty Loan were reported today to the treasury and total subscriptions tonight stood at $1,296,999,000. This was 28.52 per cent of the entire loan.

Subscriptions and percentages on quotas by districts are as follows:

District	Subscriptions	Per Cent
St. Louis	$109,783,000	56.30
Minneapolis	$3,136,000	49.98
Chicago	$261,456,000	49.97
Boston	$145,456,000	38.71
Kansas City	$2,506,000	32.05
Richmond	$6,429,000	28.78
Cleveland	$121,977,000	27.10
Atlanta	$20,898,000	21.45
New York	$289,300,000	21.42
San Francisco	$1,190,000	20.29
Philadelphia	$4,520,000	19.87
Dallas	$16,602,000	17.56

The treasury today reported "a somewhat quickened interest" in the Victory Loan campaign, based on reports from federal reserve districts.

Treasury's Review.

The treasury's review of the progress of the campaign said: "The percentage of quota officially subscribed still is below the percentage of the Fourth Liberty Loan subscribed at the same period. There is a gradual falling off in the average percentage of quota subscribed and workers are at loss to explain it."

The Minneapolis district which in previous loans has been one of the first to pass the hundred per cent mark, probably will have as much difficulty as any other districts in this loan, due to the fact that farmers are busy at belated planting.

In the St. Louis district, which alone has more than half of its quota, 12 counties of Arkansas are over subscribed and 16 counties in Indiana have 11 over and one under. A Mississippi has ten over and three under; Illinois has nine counties over and five under; Tennessee has three have passed 100 per cent and five have not reported, while in Kentucky 19 are over and 15 are under.

The Chicago district reports 51,191 subscribers. The first trade committee to obtain its quota in Chicago, the treasury announced, included the brewers, distillers and tobacco dealers. A telegram from one of the leaders given out by the treasury said they had "done the job cheerfully" despite prohibition and high taxes.

EXPECT CHANCES IN GERMAN OFFICIALS

BERNE, SWITZ., April 30.—Wednesday—(French Wireless Service)—Serious differences have arisen between the members of the national German government and a change may be expected, according to telegrams from Berlin.

The conflict between Matthias Erzberger, head of the armistice commission, and Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, foreign minister, and head of the peace delegation, is said to have reached the breaking point.

In addition there are serious political problems of internal policy. Many members of the majority socialists appear inclined to co-operate with the conservative independent socialists in Germany, from a Bolshevik government, favoring the creation of a new government.

476 NAMES ADDED TO MAJOR CASUALTIES

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Re-checking of army records has resulted in adding 476 names to the list of major casualties, the war department announced today, bringing the total to 75,820 killed in action, died of wounds, disease and other causes.

The number of prisoners was reduced to 4,786 and the missing in action to 4,293.

The corrected total of wounded was given as 201,847, but in many cases men were included in this total as wounded more than once.

1490 COMING TO CHICAGO

Chicago, May 1.—Advices received here from Washington today state that the 149th field artillery of the 42nd (Rainbow) division, will leave Camp Merritt next Tuesday for Chicago. This information was obtained after Senators McCormick and Sherman of Illinois, had communicated with the war department the protests received by them from relatives of members of the regiment.

CLOSING IN ON MUNICH

Berne, May 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Reports received here from Bavaria say the government forces are steadily closing around Munich. Wessernburg, Erding, Freising and Starnberg already have been taken.

Big American Navy Necessary Says Daniels

LONDON, May 1.—In a conference with newspaper correspondents today and in a speech at a joint luncheon of the Anglo-American society and the Sullerage institute, Josephus Daniels, American secretary of the navy made no apologies for the big navy program of the United States. In his speech he emphasized what he considered the absolute necessity for a big American navy should the league of nations fail to function.

To pointed questions of British correspondents the secretary explained that the action of congress could be changed by the president should the league of nations provide for smaller armaments.

At the luncheon Secretary Daniels recalled the co-operation of Admirals Chichester and Dewey at Manila Bay, of which they day was the twenty-first anniversary. He confidently predicted that the co-operation of the British and American navies would continue. Without the league of nations, Britons must realize that the United States has problems similar to those of Great Britain.

"We have a great foreign trade," the secretary continued, "which is bound to grow and carrying trade that is bound to grow with it. The United States does not aspire to possess such sea strength that we can impose our decrees arbitrarily upon free peoples."

"But if the evolution of the league of nations is not such as its friends and devotees in Europe and America hope, if competition in armaments must continue as in the past, then regrettable as the choice may be and repugnant as it will be to the American people, it will be essential to the dictates of elementary national interest that shall maintain a fleet commensurate with the needs of national defense and international obligations."

PARIS, May 1.—(By The Associated Press.)—Dispatches received here from Athens by perigree in Greek peace conference circles concerning the proclamation issued by the people in the People in the Dodecanese Islands of unity with Greece, announce that general manifestations in favor of such a union were made in all islands occupied by the Italians.

NEW YORK, May 1.—Roberto Gayon, secretary to General Aurelio Blanquez, who was killed recently in Mexico, was arrested today by Agent Charles Scully of the Department of Justice, charged with conspiring to start a revolution in Mexico from within the United States.

AERONAUTICAL CONGRESS

Atlantic City, N. J., May 1.—The second annual Pan-American aeronautical congress opened here today. The convention will last a month and aerial contests will be held almost daily.

There were several additional entries to pay for the 21 trophies and prizes offered for competition.

Special prizes of $1,000 will be awarded to the four aviators who make the best records in flying from anywhere to Atlantic City in May.

SIXTEEN WERE DROWN

Washington, May 1.—Two officers and 14 men of the crew of the naval tug Gypsum Queen were drowned when that vessel struck a rock and sank near Armen Light, off the coast of France on April 28, while returning to Brest after assisting a fleet of mine sweepers in distress.

LOWDEN SIGNS CLIFFE BILL

Springfield, May 1.—Governor Lowden today signed the Cliff Bill appropriating $25,000 for expenses to welcome the 23rd division and the 149th field artillery. The governor also signed the Robbins bill validating community high school districts made invalid by a supreme court decision.

Gotham "Reds" Plan Four Big General Strikes

NEW YORK, May 1.—The climax of the May day celebration of New York came tonight with a mass meeting at Madison Square Garden which adopted resolutions advocating four general strikes, three of five days' duration and a fourth of indefinite length, unless Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings are released from prison or granted new trials before July 4.

The meeting tonight was the only one of a dozen planned for today which was not broken up by soldiers and sailors. It was not the fault of the service men that they did not "clear up" the garden tonight. They tried hard enough but were overwhelmed by an army of 1,138 police, which guarded all approaches to the garden and held at bay the more than 1,000 men in uniform.

Led by a Scotch-Canadian soldier and a bugler who repeatedly sounded the assembly, the soldiers and sailors charged the police lines again and again but only to be beaten back. The police became more enthusiastic in their work after they had been pelted with a shower of bricks.

An American soldier wounded in France and on sick leave from a hospital in this country, was knocked down and trampled by mounted police who charged the crowd as he was walking off. He was unconscious when carried away in an ambulance.

Organize Big Parade.

The soldiers and sailors began their "anti-May day" activities early in the afternoon and organized a parade of more than 500 men. After raiding the New York Call office they marched to Madison Square Garden, where someone reported a "Bolshevik gathering." Then they marched to the soldiers and sailors' protective association on East 23rd street, looking for Bolshevik literature. Next the Rand School of Social Sciences was called upon and later the office of Novoy Mir, official organ of the Russian Bolsheviks.

Of Madison Square Garden, where May day was being celebrated by 13,000 workers of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, the soldiers and sailors were met at the doors by the police who checked them there.

The bugle call "to arms" brought more soldiers and sailors hurrying to the already besieged doors of the garden where the notes brought silence inside the big arena. Up to that time greetings had been proposed to the great and free people of Russia, and to "redeemed Germany," together with demands for "restoration of free speech, free press, and free assembly, repudiation and repeal of all measures of oppression and repression, release of industrial and political prisoners, immediate political prisoners, and the great powers were seated with Premier Clemenceau in the center.

This is the scene for the handing over of the terms of peace. The exact date of the ceremony has not been announced but it is commonly assumed that it will occur Saturday.

French government however, has carefully abstained from naming the day and it is a fair presumption that this is due not only to the problem whether the intervening time will be long enough to verify the credentials of the German plenipotentiaries but also the uncertainty that the draft of the treaty can be completed by Saturday. Questions relative to the adequacy of the powers of the German delegates and their qualifications to speak for Bavaria may delay the handing over of the treaty.

Delegates Take Stroll.

All the German delegates including Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau the foreign minister, were out for a brief stroll today despite inclement weather. There was a busy coming and going of subordinates between the three hotels occupied by the mission. The Germans excite little curiosity in Versailles and passers-by rub elbows with the Teutonic visitors scarcely taking note of them.

Versailles will have its May Day celebration but, so far as can be determined tonight, it will not affect the comfort or the commissary arrangements of the German mission. The labor leaders have promised that the procession will not enter Rue des Reservoirs and an adequate force ofgendarmes will see that agitators do not gain access to the three hotels with an idea of forcing them into the one-day strike. The placards, with the French equivalent of "Keep moving" have been posted on the streets.

PEACE PARLEY OFFICIALLY OPENS AT VERSAILLES

Allies Receive Credentials of German Delegates

VERSAILLES, May 1.—(By The Associated Press.)—The first official meeting between allied representatives and the German peace delegates took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon. A committee from the allies and the United States received the German credentials.

Pale and almost fainting from emotion, Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the Germans foreign secretary and head of the delegation, passed thru what evidently was one of the bitterest moments of his life. He was barely able to sustain himself thru the brief ceremony and reach the waiting automobile, which had brought him to the gathering.

The meeting took place in the room of the Trianon hotel previously used for the sessions of the supreme military council.

M. Cambon addressed Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, stating that he was chairman of the commission entrusted by the Allied powers to receive and examine the credentials of the German delegates as the first step in a conference which, it was hoped, would lead to peace.

"Here are ours," continued M. Cambon, extending as he spoke the former credentials of the allied commission as plenipotentiaries to the congress.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau surrendered the German credentials, with even less of a formal address, his emotion being too great to enable him to deliver an extended discourse.

After these brief ceremonies the Germans left the hall, walking a few steps to the cars in waiting. They were followed immediately by the allied representatives.

Held in Spacious Room.

Versailles, Wednesday, April 30.—By The Associated Press.—The spacious dining room of the Hotel Trianon today received its peace congress installation—three long tables in horse-shoe form, covered with the traditional green cloth of diplomacy and games of chance. The installation is imposing in the size of each of the side tables, which extend some fifty feet thru the room. At the head of the apartment is a table about thirty five feet long at which the representatives of the great powers were seated with Premier Clemenceau in the center.

Inside the horse-shoe is another table covered with red plush and in the space between one side of the horse-shoe and the windows is a similar table. In the window openings are smaller tables for secretaries.

Celebrations In Paris End With Blood Shed

PARIS, May 1.—Serious disorders occurred in Paris today on the occasion of the celebration of "May Day." French blood flowed in the streets and weapons that so lately had been used against the foe were turned against countrymen.

Particular efforts were made by the mobs to invade the Place de la Concorde and reach the chamber of deputies and the ministry where demonstrations had been planned. It was in these attempts that the casualties occurred. "Long live the Poilu!" the crowd shouted at the Madeleine and in the Place de la Concorde as it surged toward the soldiers stationed there, who withdrew and allowed the mob to reach the Place de la Concorde against a wall of policemen and cavalry.

Then shots rang out. One policeman fell. The cavalry charged and along the Rue Royale the mob wavered back toward the Madeleine church. Here and there a man or woman staggered, fell and remained motionless, horses trampling eight or ten out-stretched forms littering the street from the Rue St. Honore to the Madeleine church.

One policeman said to The Associated Press correspondent, as shots were heard a hundred yards distant, "they are firing at us and I have a gun but I cannot fire upon my brothers."

Finding that the attempts to reach the chamber of deputies and the war ministry were futile, the crowd turned to the Place de la Republique and de la Bastille, singing the "Marseillaise."

At the Place de la Republique, the most popular quarter in Paris, all accesses to the squares were strongly guarded, cavalry charging repeatedly and the firemen using their hose in spraying the crowds.

Here a blind soldier, wearing the war cross, with two palms, entered a stalled automobile. The crowd was silenced and the soldier delivered a speech.

"We are the weakest," he said. "Let us not shed French blood. I cannot see but I feel that you are honest working-men and you are honest working-men. Let us disperse."

The crowd followed the blind soldier who was borne on the shoulders of the enthusiastic crowd.

RAILROADERS PROTEST.

Denver, Colo., May 1.—Nearly 6,000 workmen of the federal railroad shops crafts of Denver declared a one-day strike today as a protest against the "failure of the government to keep its faithful promises that ample employment would be furnished," and as a demonstration in behalf of Eugene V. Debs and other radicals now serving prison sentences.

At a mass meeting today resolutions were adopted urging recognition of the Russian Soviet government, demanding the release of Eugene V. Debs and other radicals, declaring for a nationwide strike of all railroad employees in case of return of the railroads to private management.

ITALIANS LANDING TROOPS

Copenhagen, May 1.—Italian troops and war material are being landed at Sebenico and Zara, on the eastern coast of the Adriatic, according to advices from Spalato. The troops are advancing eastward, and the Italians are bringing up reinforcements to the debarkation line.

DEMANDS SURRENDER.

Copenhagen, May 1.—Munich dispatches say that Bavarian Premier Hoffmann, has refused another request for armistice, and insists upon the unconditional surrender of the communist forces within the city.

Cambon and Lord Harding, Henry White represented the United States and Ambassador Matsui, Japan. The Italians were unrepresented.

No official information has yet been vouchsafed as to the exact date for tendering the peace treaty to the Germans.

Thursday in peace conference circles was relatively quiet. Numerous small details of the peace treaty, including the disposition of the German cable lines, were discussed by the council of three in the morning, while in the afternoon there was a meeting at the French foreign ministry of the council, the foreign ministers and members of the war council.

Both houses of the Chinese parliament have protested against the award of Kiaochow to the Japanese and requested the unconditional abrogation of concessions on the Shantung peninsula. China's delegates to the peace conference have asked for an official statement of the Kiaochow decision by the council of three.

An appeal has been made by the Hungarian government for a cessation of hostilities by the Rumanians, who recently have been making their way rapidly toward Budapest. A similar appeal has been made to the Jugoslavians with an offer of territorial concessions for acquiescence.

OPPOSE RADICAL CHANGES IN STATE ELECTION LAWS

Voiced By Chicago Member of Special Commission

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 1.—Representative Gotthard A. Dahlberg of Chicago, Republican, member of the special commission named by Governor Lowden to study election reforms, issued a statement today in which he dissents from the majority recommendation for a state election commission and for radical changes in the primary system.

The statement was coincident with the introduction in the senate by Senator Buck, chairman of the special commission, of bills embodying the recommendations made public late yesterday.

Mr. Dahlberg's position was said to be shared by a considerable following in both houses. Members of the commission besides Dahlberg who failed to sign the report to the governor were Senator Al F. Gorman, Democrat; Colin C. H. Fyfe of Chicago; and W. W. Fiechel of Chicago. Those who signed were Senators Burk and Cliffe, Representatives Perkins and Dietrich and Secretary of State Emmerson.

Dahlberg's Statement

"I do not take with the majority view in regard to the primary law," said Representative Dahlberg. "I believe it was passed by the legislature in response to the demands of the voters of the state and that public sentiment is still favorable to its retention. I feel, however, that it can be safely modified to take from the operation of those offices which are ministerial in their function, leaving only executive and legislative officials to be nominated at the primary with delegate conventions to nominate all other election officials."

"However, with a constitutional convention soon to assemble, which will undoubtedly reduce the number of election officials, I believe it wise to await the result of such convention before making extensive changes in our election laws. I join in recommending in the bills submitted modifying the primary law and codifying the election laws. With reference to the provisions for a state election commission, I believe that this should be very carefully considered before such provisions are adopted."

The house passed appropriation bills carrying $188,000 to meet allowances of the state court of claims.

Prince Albert of Great Britain, is busily engaged working in the offices of the air ministry. This is not the first instance of members of royal families working since the beginning of the great war. King Albert of Belgium headed his troops at the front, lived with them and shared their hardships. The Queen served in Red Cross hospitals. The Queen of England worked hour after hour touring the hospitals of England, cheering the wounded and aiding in every way she could. Yet, there are those who say the "royal ones" never work.

GOLD MEDAL FOR PATRIOTIC SENTIMENT.

That patriotism should not die with the ending of the war is the firm conviction of the Woman's Committee, Council of National Defense, Illinois Division. It has just issued an announcement that it will award a handsome gold medal to the person sending in the best patriotic sentiment expressed in not more than twenty words. The contest is open to children as well as adults.

The sentiment need not be original; it may be taken from the Gettysburg Address, any of the famous speeches of Patrick Henry, Daniel Webster, Samuel Adams, or other of our country's patriots, from addresses of our presidents—indeed there is no restriction laid upon the source from which it may be obtained.

The medal is an inch and a quarter in diameter, of fourteen carats gold, and is hung from a heavy gold bar by red, white and blue ribbon. On the center of the medal will be the name of the winner and the patriotic service rendered.

GERMANY HAS THE COIN.

All this sob stuff about Germany being unable to pay the amounts in reparations and indemnities which Europe demands seems to be discounted considerably on reading a general report on savings banks in Germany in 1918, appearing in Die Sparkasse. This report is based on the individual reports of 48 of the principal savings institutions in that country, the deposits in which during 1918, as compared with the previous year, increased in the aggregate about 34 per cent, or from $911,000,000 to $1,229,000,000. Berlin alone marked an increase of $167,000,000 in deposits. If the Fritzies could save money in that manner during the last and most oppressive year of the war, they certainly could dig up within the next half century a sum sufficient to indemnify, partially at least, the Allies for the ruin wrought by Hun-hellishness during the past four and a half years.

At a recent meeting of the Mattoon city council the annual report of the board of water and light commissioners showed net savings for the year of $10,091, and cash on hand including the sinking fund, of $32,887. Such a report sounds impossible in Jacksonville now, but a few years later when the proposed water plant has been completed and operation costs are cut down, there will be a chance for the same kind of an encouraging statement here.

The Chicago Tribune's advocacy of increased tax measures for Chicago is both interesting and amusing. To make good the loss of $7,000,000 in saloon licenses the Tribune says there must be some increase in taxes, and advocates these increases even if a part of the money is wasted by Mayor Thompson's administration. The paper's attitude seems to be that it is better to have ample funds in hands it

Service Pledge

"For the good of Jacksonville," will be the slogan of this administration, and it will be our earnest, honest endeavor to carry out the meaning of the words. We will strive for economy, efficiency and progress, and the interests of the public shall at all times be foremost. We are not promising "wonders," only to give our best service for the common good. There will be no secrecy about City affairs. The facts and conditions will be constantly before you, and your co-operation and support are sought. Without co-operation and support, we can accomplish little. We will welcome advice and suggestions, but we ask that you refrain from criticism until certain that you know the real facts.

Loyalty Pledge

Believing in the good purposes of the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Jacksonville and their desire to do those things that are for the best interests of Jacksonville, I pledge to this administration my moral support.

This does not mean that I will refrain from all criticism, but does mean that the criticisms I have to offer will not be voiced until I have the facts, resulting from my own investigation.

accounts unworthy than to have no funds at all.

It is no wonder that organizations in Missouri are condemning the dirt roads bill recently signed by Gov. Gardner. They rightly claim that improved earth roads are better than those unimproved, but that to fit in with the national program of good roads improvement, that the plans must be consummated for hard roads in Missouri—Concrete, gravel or brick.

The government has been tardy in handling some of the affairs of soldiers, but that has been the result of incompetency or necessity. Legitimate motives related to soldier activities, and the laws that affect them. In the case of insurance, for instance, the policy will remain in effect for thirty days after a man leaves the service, even if he fails to pay the premium. Then six months is allowed for reinstatement, and now a special line of inquiry is being followed out to find disabled soldiers who are entitled to more attention and support than they are receiving from their government.

"EVERYTHING FOR THE GOOD OF THE CITY."

On the wall of the city council chamber in letters that all may read are the words: "Everything for the good of the city." It is the motto of the new administration, and no one can doubt the purpose of the mayor and aldermen to carry out the spirit of that pledge. In his inaugural statement Mayor Crabtree made it plain that all the officials realize the difficulties of the task they now face, and further know that they can accomplish nothing really worth while without continued confidence and support.

The new officials have made the request from citizens, that criticism be held back until facts are known. If the declared purpose of the incoming officers to take the people fully into their confidence. They promise that there will be a searchlight on all their doings, and they want the interest and the co-operation of their fellow citizens, men and women.

The council has given a pledge of service and they ask in return a pledge of loyalty. It will be a fair exchange and from that exchange everybody can benefit. The new administration starts in with flowers and flags and compliments. These evidences of good wishes and confidence will continue, if there is real co-operative work on the part of the people during the next two years. Let's work together. Let's refrain from criticism. Let the "everything for the good of the city" motto represent the spirit and the work of all.

HATING AND WORKING

Since you ask me, I'll admit it, that I hate the horrid Hun; I suppose I'll never quit it, till my earthly course is run. But there are some tasks awaiting which demand my earnest care, so I try to do my hating when I have an hour to spare. When I've hoed my growing taters, and the twilight hour is come, then I join the village haters, hating till I'm out of plumb. One must strive to earn his wages ere he fools away his time; to indulge in mislaid rages always strikes me as a crime. There's a time to talk of traitors, of the king who lost his crown, so I join the village haters when the fat old sun goes down. Then I've done my daily labors, I have earned three honest bones; I can gossip with my neighbors, talk in loud triumphant tones. All the day I'm busy crating patent churns and things like those, and I leave the stunt of hating till the evening twilight flows. Then I'll see me stand orating loudly by the village pump, telling how I will be hating Huns till Gabriel blows his trumpet.

This will provided an annuity of $1,200 during the life time of Mrs. Orear and that this sum should be paid to her "in person and not upon order verbal or written." It is set forth that no part of this annuity except $200 was ever paid to Mrs. Orear and that the amount due her was from the period of Mr. Browning's death in May, 1914, to the time of her own death in July, 1917. RESIDENCE DESTROYED BY FIRE AT WINCHESTER

Home of Mr. and Mrs. Walker a Total Loss—Opera House Successfully Given—Mrs. George W. Hogan Badly Burned—News Notes.

Winchester, May 1.—About 8:45 o'clock Thursday morning a fire alarm sounded and it was found that the house owned by Mrs. Thomas Killibrew and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Walker, was on fire. The fire was caused by the children upsetting a can of kerosene on some hot ashes while their mother was in the yard. The water pressure was low and as the strong wind made it difficult to fight the flames, the building was entirely destroyed. The fire had made such progress that it was impossible to get any of the furniture out except a sewing machine.

Mrs. George Hogan met with a very painful accident about 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning. She thought the furnace fire had gone out and so placed some paper in the fire bed and poured some kerosene over it. As she poured the oil on, the flames flashed out of the door, singeing her hair and burning her arm painfully. It is thought, however, that she is not seriously burned. Her many friends hope for speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Murphy received word Thursday that their son, Henry, had landed in New York and was on his way to Camp Dix, N. J. The young man enlisted in November, 1917, and has been in overseas service for a considerable period.

Give Operetta.
The operetta, "Queen of May," was given Thursday evening at the Lyric by the pupils of the 7th and 8th grades, under direction of Mrs. W. H. Kinson, with Mrs. J. W. Eckman as accompanist. The music was bright and pretty throughout the performance. The following is a brief synopsis of the operetta: For the May day festivities the young people selected a woodland spot and Lois for queen. While the young people await the coming of May day a band of tricky elves endeavor to thwart the plan by retarding spring. Titania, queen of the fairies, with her subjects counteracts the work of the elves. May day dawns bright and clear. Flowers spring up and the young people return to crown Lois queen. The cast of characters follows:

Lois, queen of the May—Ruth Buckley.
Titania, queen of the Fairies—Miranda Coultas.
The solos, duets, and sextettes were well rendered, the fairy dance and May pole dance were artistically given and added greatly to the interest. The house was crowded and many were turned away.

ERROR CORRECTED

In the statement of Mr. Vasconcellos, retiring commissioner, of public property which appeared in the Journal yesterday, there was some confusion of figures, owing to the fact that the word "expenses" was used in several places instead of the word "exclusively." The figures were also omitted which showed the total number of kilowatts used for purposes other than those listed.

RING PRESENTED TO RETIRING OFFICIAL.

The high regard in which members of the water and light department held Joshua Vasconcellos, retiring commissioner, was voiced Thursday afternoon by George Stoldt, when he presented a handsome Odd Fellow ring to Mr. Vasconcellos. The speaker said that the donors held Mr. Vasconcellos in high personal esteem and appreciated the treatment accorded to them during the time of their relationship.

The gift came to Mr. Vasconcellos as an entire surprise, but he responded appropriately and indicated that he greatly appreciated the gift both for its intrinsic value and because of the friendship and good will it represented. He said that he had given his best to the city in service and had all along been accorded loyal co-operation of workers.

For Months Farmer Was Too Weak to Work—Tanlac Builds Him Up.

"I don't believe I ever spent money to such good advantage in my life as I did when I bought Tanlac," said Nicholas Fandel, a prosperous farmer, who lives at Metamora, Illinois on R. F. D. 3.

"Almost a year ago," he continues, "I was taken down with the grippe, and then I had pneumonia, and from what they say, I must have almost played out. I finally got able to be up and around again, but ever since that attack I had not felt the same until I took Tanlac. I was so run-down, weak and thin that I simply wasn't worth a nickel so far as any kind of work was concerned, and I didn't even pretend to try to work, for it was just all I could do to get around. My stomach got in such a bad shape that I had to come down to breakfast food. I never did go much on that kind of stuff any way, and when I had to leave off my good old ham and eggs for breakfast I knew I must be getting in pretty bad shape. But even these light foods hurt my stomach and I would almost die with pain after eating. The gas on my stomach would work up into my chest, make my heart flutter and cause such awful pains and shortness of breath that I was alarmed. This kept up until I was hardly more than a frame of skin and bones and with all the medicines I took I kept getting worse. At times I had such awful sick headaches that I would turn almost blind and have a nauseated feeling all the time. Thru all these months, which seemed years to me, I dragged around in misery and could do nothing. I could hardly life a peck of corn and while I had always enjoyed my farm and living in general, I had about decided I would never be in shape to enjoy them again.

"But through the advice of a friend who got me to take Tanlac, I am now a well man and for this reason I think the money I have spent for Tanlac is about the best investment I ever made in my life. Before I finished my first bottle I began to eat better and could feel my strength coming back to me. I knew then the medicine was getting results, so I at once bought a half dozen bottles more. Well, today I am enjoying the dividends on my investment, which is health better than I have had in years. I have not only been relieved of all the after effects of the grippe but my stomach is in as good shape as it ever was. I am eating three rousing meals a day, enjoy my ham and eggs again for breakfast, and never have a sign of gas on my stomach, palpitation of the heart or shortness of breath. My strength has all come back to me and I can do as much work now as any man on the place."

W. S. LURTON PASSED AWAY LAST NIGHT

Well Known Citizen Died After Long Illness—Father was One of Pioneer Residents—Built Jacksonville's First Ice Plant.

William S. Lurton one of Jacksonville's oldest and best known residents died at his home on East College avenue at 10 o'clock Thursday night after an illness extending over a period of more than two years.

Deceased was the son of James H., and Mary Stribling Lurton and was born in this county 75 years ago and all his life had been spent here. He was for many years identified with the farming and business interests of the county and city and was a citizen of the highest type.

Mr. Lurton was twice married his first wife dying some years ago. He is survived by the wife of his second marriage and by the following children: Mr. Lottie Wesner, Chicago. Mrs. Marie Smith, Pontiac, Mrs. Beulah Cunningham, New York City, William Lurton, Chicago, Jean Lurton in Wisconsin. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. G. B. Sarchette of Montana, Mrs. Logan Black residing east of the city and two brothers, Benjamin and Robert Lurton both of this city.

The father of Mr. Lurton was prominently identified with the Democratic party of the county and was several times elected to office. He was appointed collector in 1833. The son also was affiliated with the Democratic party and was active in its affairs for many years. He was possessed of a fine singing voice and gave freely of his time and talents when the singing of campaign songs was in vogue.

When a member of the legislature he presented the bill which resulted in the placing of vestibules on street cars in Illinois cities and which has proven a great boon to motormen.

For many years Mr. Lurton engaged in the ice business, harvesting natural ice from the pond on the home farm east of the city. When the manufacture of artificial ice was in its infancy Mr. Lurton with commendable enterprise built the first plant for the manufacture of artificial ice in Jacksonville. The plant was located on East State street just east of the Chicago & Alton tracks where the Jacksonville transfer storage building is now located.

A fact which probably is not generally known, but which is related in Eames' Historic Morgan is that Mr. Lurton was a member of the jury in the famous Murray McConnell murder trial. This trial was held in the Straw opera house and was one of the most famous trials ever held in the county. It is even now spoken of by old residents of the city. Mr. Lurton was a member of the Methodist church. He was a man of genial disposition and one who made and held many friendships. For a number of years he has not engaged in active business but has lived quietly at his home on East College avenue.

His daughter, Mrs. Cunningham and her husband were with him when the end came. Mr. Harrison Smith of Pontiac was also here having come down to see how Mr. Lurton was getting along.

The body was removed to Reynolds' mortuary and prepared for burial. The funeral will be held from the Reynolds' chapel, the hour to be announced later.

In memory of the late Harold J. Johnson, the performances at our respective theatres will cease for a few minutes as tribute to our co-worker. Patrons present at the time are requested to be silent to make the tribute more impressive.

Members Feasted at Batz Cafe After Regular Meeting—Several Talks Made.

Following the regular meeting of Local No. 69, Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen Thursday night the members adjourned to the Batz Cafe where a banquet and smoker was enjoyed.

After the banquet with President Montgomery acting as toastmaster a number of talks were made. Secretary Cruse reported a most successful year with still brighter prospects for the future. The occasion proved one of great pleasure and reports show the local union is steadily growing in numbers.

NEW CITY OFFICIALS BEGIN THEIR DUTIES

FIRST SESSION HELD THURSDAY NIGHT.

Mayor Crabtree's Inaugural Statement Points to Difficulties that Must Be Met—People Asked to Refrain from Criticism Until They Know Facts—Aldermen Draw Lots for Long and Short Terms—Temporary Appointments.

Members of the new city administration entered upon their work Thursday night when a council session was held at the city hall. H. J. Rodgers spoke briefly for the retiring council and expressed the best wishes for the success of the administration. Mayor E. E. Crabtree took occasion to thank on behalf of the council the mayor and retiring commissioners for their evident desire to help the incoming council in every way possible.

The retiring commissioners stood with Mayor Rodgers as he made his brief address and turned over the key to the city hall to Mayor Crabtree. Then the new mayor took charge and presided throughout the session. George W. Davis acting as city clerk.

Motto on the Wall.
During the past week the motto of the new administration, "Everything for the good of the city," had been painted on the north wall of the council chamber and these words served as the text of Mayor Crabtree's inaugural address, wherein he declared that the administration at this time makes no promises other than to keep the motto constantly in mind and to strive for both economy and progress.

On behalf of the women of Jacksonville Mayor Crabtree was presented by Mrs. J. H. Danskin with a gavel which will hereafter have its place on the mayor's desk. The council passed a resolution outlining very briefly its "service program" and in turn asked the people to join in a pledge of loyalty—that is, loyalty to the extent of refraining from criticism without investigation.

In accordance with law the aldermen drew lots to determine the four to serve for one year and the four to serve for two years. The two year term fell to Aldermen McGinnis, Graft, Moore and Shide, and the one year term to Alderman Flynn, Williamson, Cain and Chapin. It was announced by Mayor Crabtree that in accordance with the agreement made at an informal conference that the committee appointments and appointments of employees will not be considered for several weeks yet and to serve until that time he announced the following:

Acting chief of police—Frank D. Kiloran.
Acting chief fire department—Sam Hunt.

Acting chief water department—W. H. Cobb.

Acting chief light plant—George Stoldt.

Acting chief garbage department—Frank Tendick.

It was determined the next council meeting will be held Monday, May 5, at 7:30 o'clock, and at that time an ordinance will be presented fixing the date on which regular meetings will be held.

Hall Decorated.

There was a large gallery of spectators, both men and women, and certainly not for many years has the council chamber looked so well as flags and flowers had been used for decorative purposes thru the thoughtfulness of friends of the incoming officials.

Mayor Crabtree made reference to the newly painted council chamber and said that due credit should be given to the painters who contributed their services and the firms who gave the materials. The mayor also referred to the motto on the wall, this bettering work having been done by W. G. Benson without expense to the city.

In the course of the mayor's inaugural address he said that one of the earliest acts of the council would be to have a summarized statement of the city's finances and then went on to make the interesting announcement that Price, Waterhouse & Co., accountants of national reputation, had agreed to send a man to Jacksonville for a period of ten days or more to make this financial statement, and that this service also had been secured without expense. Mr. Crabtree related how he went into the office of the company in St. Louis, told them something of the circumstances and that the offer to make the statement without charge resulted.

Words of Appreciation.

Mr. Crabtree after listening to the brief statement by the retiring mayor, took occasion to say that he believed that all the members of the retiring council had been "good soldiers" and they had honestly striven to put their best into this service rendered Jacksonville. He said that while they had their critics, that he felt no doubt that with passing time there would come a greater appreciation of the work done.

A part of the past administration, he said had been thru very trying times—times which complicated municipal affairs just as it made more complex the affairs of the nation. Mr. Crabtree expressed especial appreciation of the fine spirit of helpfulness that all the members of the retiring administration have shown by their statements and thru action taken in recent months in preparing the way for the city officials to succeed them. He said that all of these retiring officials had indicated their willingness and desire to be of any possible service to the new administration in the days to come.

Just before the adjournment the new mayor said that since election he had a number of times come in contact with all the aldermen and that he was convinced that Jacksonville never had a more representative council and that there could be no question about the honesty of purpose of the aldermen, their desire to do the best things for Jacksonville.

Loyalty Pledges.

The loyalty pledges were circulated among the persons present and it was announced that women of the city had indicated a willingness to have charge of the general pledge circulation, and an opportunity will be given every resident of the city to join in this common expression of municipal interest. Alderman Cain introduced the service resolution. It was unanimously adopted on motion of Alderman Chapin with a second by Alderman Moore.

Mayor Crabtree's bond for $3,000 with Anna Crabtree and F. E. Farrell as sureties was approved.

The text of the addresses by the retiring mayor and the incoming mayor are given elsewhere in this issue.

Cattle Scarce.

The Morgan County Breeders Association is canvassing the members for desirable offerings of cattle for a cattle sale the last of May or the first of June. Inquiry reveals the fact that choice cattle are decidedly scarce in this county. It is evidently up to the association to foster club work among the boys and girls by bringing in calves from outside and selling them to the young folks according to the club plan. There is certainly a need of reviving the cattle industry here.

Why is the Wheat Yellow?
Occasionally this question was heard this spring. A prominent farmer of Manchester said it was due to dry weather and impoverished soil. The dry weather certainly had something to do with it and as we find out how much has been taken from the soil and how little has been returned in the way of lime organic matter and phosphate, we begin to credit the elderly gentleman with handing it to the present generation. The early settlers used good judgment in selecting this section for settlement but it is a question whether the present generation is using equally good judgment in maintaining the fertility of their heritage. The wheat may be telling the story of soil impoverishment.

milk test and scales in handling milk will enable any dairyman to detect the unprofitable cows in his herd. Many do not use either because they do not know how. Others do not care to tackle any new fangled method. Still others are afraid to be shown where they are in the cow handling game, and at heart are afraid an efficient test will cause them to part company with some favorite pet. Finally there are some who really think it is too much trouble to weigh milk and test cows. Be that as it may, the man who will ultimately win out is the man who will test his cows accurately and adjust his business accordingly. A cow testing association is a good thing for the dairy men to be a member of.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE.

San Salvador, Wednesday, April 30.—The earthquake which occurred here day before yesterday was the worst ever registered in this country. Several lesser tremors have been felt since. Many people are sleeping in the piazzas. A large number were hurt.

Inaugural Statement by Mayor E. E. Crabtree

It is to be expected that this administration will make mistakes, but at any rate I am not going to make the mistake at this time of promising just what we will accomplish in the days to come. I believe that the citizens of Jacksonville have confidence in the men recently elected to office and my great concern is that the confidence may be continued throughout the administration. I realize and I am sure that the men about this table share the feeling with me, that without the combined confidence and support of the people we can accomplish very little during the coming months. This is not our administration but your administration, and as we come to a realization that progress and betterment of city affairs is a matter of co-operation, the sooner will the desired things in city government come to pass. It has been often said that the people in this country, get what they want. The statement has generally been applied to national and state affairs, but it is just as true in Jacksonville as any other place.

The trouble with municipal government often is that the majority of the people do not let their sentiments be known, or they are not interested enough to take the necessary time from their own business to keep the municipal house in order. The trouble has been with most cities, that the minorities have ruled, and the conditions have not been what they should be. But in these same communities when the day of awakening has come, the time of realization, the majority has asserted itself and the conditions complained of have been swept away. This is simply the proof of the statement that in governmental affairs people get what they want, if they are really in earnest about it.

So I say here in Jacksonville, if the people of this community will let their wants be known and will work in a co-operative way with the officers they have elected, there will be no reason to complain about the results.

Tonight in accordance with an agreement made by the councilmen at an informal conference, we will place on record our pledge to you and to this city that through the days we remain in office, our purpose shall be to give our best thought and service to this city. It will not be possible to please everybody. It will not be possible to accomplish wonderful things. We do hope for progress. We hope that by certain economies by the possible finding of additional sources of revenue, that the financial status of this city can be bettered.

In response to this pledge of service on our part we ask that you and other citizens join in a pledge of loyalty to this administration. Loyalty is a big word; but in this instance it means particularly a willingness to refrain from criticism, unless that criticism is of a constructive kind. We hope and have a right to ask for loyalty which will mean your willingness not to question the motives of the members of this administration or their acts on hearsay. If after you know the facts, you do not believe that we have acted conscientiously or well, then, even though you have signed this pledge of loyalty, you will be automatically released.

Possibly this pledge of service and this pledge of loyalty do not seem to you to have much worth or weight, but if you will study local municipal history you will find many an instance where motives were questioned and acts criticized to the great detriment of individuals and of the city, before the facts were known. The fact proven by the past, is that most administrations in the light of history have better standing, look better than they did in the days of their existence. The main reason for this condition is unjust and hasty criticism.

Tonight I look upon hasty criticism as a factor, if it can be avoided in the coming two years, which will mean much not only for this administration but for the city. One of the earliest acts of this council will be to prepare for publication a statement of the city's financial status, a careful statement of the amount of the city's bonded indebtedness, the amount of its floating debt, its sources of income, its monthly expenditures, the amount of money which will be received this year and the amount which in all probability must necessarily be expended. This statement will be written in such figures and such terms that the people may know the exact conditions and may come to an understanding of the financial task that confronts us.

It does not help our purse, but it does help our feeling to some extent to know that practically all other Illinois cities are in a bad financial way. The expenses of cities have grown apace within the last few years, just as have those of individuals. City revenues have not increased and so it has been inevitable that there has been a widening difference between income and expense. Manifestly, we must have days of strict economy—yes, sacrifice (or there must be found some new means of revenue). In private life nobody fancies strict economy, for that usually means a certain amount of privation. So it may happen that municipal economy may mean the lessening of some of the service you expect from the city. Or if all the service is given, there may be additional expense for you as citizens. But the advantage of a statement to you of the city's condition will be that you the people, will then let us know what you favor in matters of economy and revenue. We want this to be a people's administration. We want it to be said when we are through that we did the things the majority wanted, and so our earnest desire will be to settle the important questions relating to Jacksonville's finances and her other affairs with our consent, your approval, your advice.

In my opinion if we all approach the task with sincerity and with tact there is no reason why there cannot come a present day localization of that grand phrase of American history which recent world events have given new meaning—"A government of the people, for the people and by the people." Some one has said that you get out of life just about what you put in. So with the administration of a city. You will get out of it about what you make it with your influence and support. With your sympathy and support evidenced by your willingness to forget any small differences of opinion and to think of the things of larger importance, we can go forward, we can make progress. Without that sympathy and support the history of this administration will be the history of failure. It was ever thus and it will ever be so.

"Everything for the good of Jacksonville" has been taken as our slogan. We have taken that slogan not only for ourselves but for you, and if you and we but live up to the import of the phrase the future of Jacksonville is very secure.

We realize the importance of our task. We realize the almost hopeless financial situation, but my war experience has taught me that nothing is impossible. The letting down of the bars of religious, political and race prejudice through our work to win the war should be an example to the citizens of Jacksonville, and the same combined results for the benefit and up-building of our city through the co-operative spirit exemplified by our war activities, will give us a broader outlook and a united feeling that will master any situation. In other words, if we have learned our lesson by the war and will organize ourselves into a community of boosters and not knockers, we will work out our problem to a successful conclusion, but if we cannot retain the respect and confidence of the community, if we cannot have your moral support, our task will be difficult—yes, almost hopeless. Advise us, help us, trust us, until we have shown ourselves unworthy.

Remember what Rudyard Kipling says about "Team Work." "It ain't the guns nor armament. Nor funds that they can pay. But the close co-operation. That makes them win the day."

It ain't the individual. Nor the army as a whole. But the everlasting team work. Of every bloomin' soul."

STATEMENT FOR RETIRING COUNCIL (By H. J. Rodgers.)

Members of the Council-Elect, and Fellow Citizens:

Years ago when the gladiators fought in the arena, it was customary for the victor to salute the conqueror with these words, "We who are about to die, salute you." So says the out-going council tonight.

Four years ago we assumed office amid the applause of many friends and supporters. We had hopes and ambitions to give our city good service, as you have today. No doubt we have made mistakes during the years we have been in office; we are but men, "subject to like passions as you are," but I believe I am right in saying we have tried to do the right thing for the city as we saw it.

That we were handicapped by lack of funds to do all that was needed for the progress of Jacksonville for the city to deny. This handicap you new council will also have to carry.

As we step down and out tonight, and you assume control of the city's affairs, we, the dying gladiators, wish you all "God speed and good luck." Perhaps in years to come, some one will say, "Well done, good and faithful servants." It is now my pleasant duty to surrender the chair to Mayor Crabtree. May we all be worthy Aarons and uphold the hands of this, our Moses, whom we have chosen to lead us out of the wilderness. As a last word, I wish to assure him and you of our hearty and unqualified support.

Mayor Crabtree will you take the chair and receive the keys to the City and your office?

HEALTH PROMOTION WEEK.

Let All Unite in Making This a Grand Success.

If all will heartily unite in the work during and before health promotion week much may be accomplished in a plan, straightforward manner without any technicalities or impractical measures. Investigation showed that the mosquito carried yellow fever germs. Science did away largely with the insect and no more do we hear of the scourge as it used to visit cities in our own southland and far worse in Central and South America. New it has been demonstrated that the house fly carries a fearful amount of disease germs, hence the wisdom of beginning early to swat the fly and destroy its breeding places. A fly killed early means thousands less of the pests later on. Let all unite cheerfully in doing away with manure and trash heaps and any kind of spots in which the insects may lay their eggs. Let us begin early and not have a great mass of unsightly weeds all over the city or in so many places. There are two certain spots where the undesirable burdock flourishes. Here heroic measures should be taken. Keep them down at least and if a lot of strong brine could be poured on the spots it would do much to kill the weeds.

It will be well if any one who can make a poster or cartoon which will at all pass muster to get busy at once. There should be a lot of these and by these and other means a fine display can be made with out any great expense. So many matters are pressing now people feel slow regarding the expense of such an enterprise, and if managed properly it needn't be very costly and at the same time effective.

The ministers will be called on in due season to do their part the Sunday before and by that means the question can be brought forcibly before a large number of people. Good health pays best of anything and there is no reason why Jacksonville should not stand at the front in this important matter.

JOSEPH THOMPSON REAL WAR VETERAN

Soldier Who Went Overseas With General Pershing Had Many Thrilling Experiences—Was Wounded Several Times and Gassed—Is Visiting Brother.

Joseph Thompson of Indianapolis is visiting his brother William of Spaulding Place, this city. Although not 25 years of age the young man has certainly seen a rough side of life. He has been a resident of this place when he was employed by the Packing Company but Indianapolis is more properly his home. He has a record which would truly make an interesting volume.

Two years ago he enlisted in the regular army in Co. A, 18th regular infantry and was sent to the Mexican border where he served under Gen. Pershing and with whom he went overseas where or nearly two years he was in the thick of the hardest fighting.

He is a modest, retiring young man and only on earnest request did he show his discharge papers which give a thrilling story. He was in the battle at Cantigny, Soissons, St. Mihiel and Argonne. He was at the front a year and for 72 hours was at the battle front without relief and ahead of his own artillery.

He seemed to possess a charm of life for while his companions fell badly or mortally wounded he was spared mostly though twice he felt the sting of German missiles. His left arm had in a hole though which one could see and his back is badly scarred from shrapnel. In the last battle he was in he was badly gassed before he could get his gas mask in place.

Once he was with a small detachment of his fellow soldiers when a bursting shell buried the whole of them and they almost smothered to death. Some of the boys were wounded but young Thompson escaped unharmed.

He had another close call when a shell burst above him. One shot or Beebe bullet struck him right over his breast pocket near his heart but he had something in his pocket which deflected the missile and he is here to tell the story. Another bullet went thru the toe of his shoe. Many times he faced death from shrieking German shells and many times he seemed marked for destruction but almost miraculously escaped.

His division suffered in killed, wounded and missing 5,428 of whom 2,363 were killed outright. This was the largest division in our army and suffered about 2,000 more casualties than any other and the infantry lost the greater part. Mr. Thompson speaks in terms of high praise of the officers in his command. His discharge reads A 1 without a flaw of any kind.

A JUROR FROM MEREDOSIA

Herman Werries of Meredosia is serving his country on the jury this week. He has lived for some years in the thriving town by the Illinois river and is a prominent and well to do gentleman. He says the river is rising somewhat and is considerably above low water mark. Fishing is not very good now owing to the stage of the water and they in the future it will not be as good as in the past owing to the draining of so many lakes and sloughs and the increased current although there are many good fishing spots to be found in the water. Seeing has wisely been deferred till July which is a righteous act.

August Brockhouse of Chapin is also serving his county as a juror.

He was gassed once and was slightly wounded at another time. The day following the signing of the armistice Lieut. PROMINENT BANKERS ROTARY CLUB GUESTS

State Chairmen of Eighth District War Loan Organization Here—Declared Better Understanding Exists Between Communities and Cities Because of War Work.

When the members of the Rotary club learned that a number of the state chairmen in the war loan campaign were coming to Jacksonville Thursday, it was arranged to have the weekly luncheon a day earlier, so that the visitors might be the guests of the club. The room at the Pacific where the luncheon was served had been appropriately decorated by Manager Brennan with flowers and flags. Members of the club enjoyed this opportunity of meeting J. G. Hughes of Macon, Mo.; R. L. Jordan, Memphis, Tenn.; Marcus Sonntag, Evansville, Ind., and W. L. Kretschmar, Greenville, Miss.

Public Service After the luncheon had been served, President H. M. Capps spoke of the interest that Rotarians feel in the administration of Mayor Crabtree, which is just beginning, and said that he believed the war had brought into new prominence the idea of public service, the thought that men must answer the call of cities as well as the call of country. He stated that it was because of the urgent request of a great many citizens that Mayor Crabtree had consented to be a candidate for mayor and that he was entering upon the office merely as a matter of public service.

Mr. Capps then expressed the pleasure the Rotary club had in greeting the visitors from St. Louis. He had been associated in past months with Mr. Crabtree in war loan work. All of the visitors spoke briefly. R. L. Jordan of Memphis, Tenn., was the first speaker.

Mr. Jordan is a director of the Union & Planters Bank and Trust Co. of Memphis, and is the president of the Central Cigar Tobacco Co. He referred to the strength of the Rotary club in his home city with its membership of more than 200, and he said that the attendance at the weekly luncheons was at least 75 per cent. The speaker said that Rotarians in Memphis while they took no active part in politics had been very influential in supporting various movements for the betterment and upbuilding of the city.

J. G. Hughes, president of the State Exchange Bank of Macon, Mo., was introduced to tell how he has been able to organize his district in Missouri with such efficiency. Mr. Hughes modestly said that he had copied the ideas of other state managers and then done the best that he could.

Mr. Hughes said that one of the lessons of the war is the responsibilities of citizens to the public and he dwelt upon the thought that this spirit is going to make a great difference in cities and states during the years to come. He made application of this theory to the fact that Mr. Crabtree had been drafted into service as Mayor of Jacksonville.

Boundary Lines Disappear.

The third of the visitors introduced was W. L. Kretschmar, president of the Commercial Savings Bank of Greenville, Miss., and ex-president of the Mississippi Bankers Association. Mr. Kretschmar was a commendable loyalist to the south said that in his state that they no longer talked of the richness of the Nile but compared other fertile sections with the Yazoo Valley of Mississippi. He said that while his state was known as the place of 50 cent cotton and 10 per cent interest, that business and living conditions of the south were of an attractive kind.

And while the speaker was enthusiastic about his own state, he expressed his great pleasure that boundary lines are disappearing and said that even as a result of work in the federal reserve district that a better understanding is resulting between the states and between the people. "It usually happens," he said, "the better we know people the better we like them, and this is one of the good effects of the war in that it is bringing communities and cities and states into a clearer understanding of others."

Marcus Sonntag, president of the American Trust & Savings Bank of Evansville, Ind., and an ex-president of the Indiana Bankers Association, was the last of the speakers and was introduced as the manager for a state that had in previous loans carried off honors and was now in a fair way to repeat the loyal performance. Mr. Sonntag summarized conditions in the district under his care as very satisfactory.

Politics Last Thought.

He said that in the months of intercourse with Mr. Crabtree and other state chairmen that the matter of politics had been altogether forgotten and until he had learned of Mr. Crabtree's election as mayor here it had never occurred to him to wonder to which of the great political parties Mr. Crabtree might happen to belong. He spoke of this fact to indicate how all matters of politics and points of possible difference were forgotten while the things of greater moment were under consideration.

Mr. Sonntag joined with other speakers in expressing the belief that as the result of the war time activities and war time understanding that the people of the U. S. are now going to pay more attention than ever before to municipal affairs. The work together spirit which has developed he believes will result in a beneficial way to municipalities.

It goes without saying that each one of the visitors began his remarks by expressing something by way of appreciation of Mr. Crabtree, based upon their observation of his efficiency in the work of the war loan organization. They all voiced the sentiment that because of their friendship for Mr. Crabtree and admiration for him as a man and a leader, that there had come a desire to see his home city and that when they learned of his nomination and election for office of mayor they had determined to come to Jacksonville and see for themselves.

Compliments for Jacksonville.

They had all gained a most favorable opinion of Jacksonville, not only because of Mr. Crabtree, but thru their acquaintance with Lieut. A. F. Ewert, who is now rated as the most popular speaker in the eighth federal reserve district; and from the Jacksonville men who have been associated with the Liberty loan exhibit trains and in the work of the speakers department. Altogether the four visitors in courteous phrases made it appear that they were sure that their good opinion of Jacksonville, resulting from their contact with its citizens, had been increased by their coming.

The Rotarians present realized that they had as guests men whose loyalty and efficiency had been thoroughly tested by the war loan organization work—men of business affairs, men of vision men of the type they would expect to find associated in the direction of the government's important work.

Before the session closed, F. J. Heint, secretary, announced that Mayor Gen. Peter Traube, a Rotarian and commander of the 35th division in the battle of the Argonne, together with his aide, Capt. Arthur A. Odell, will be guests of the club May 15. A dinner ner and public meeting will be given at that time. Chairman Capps announced that Friday, May 9, Rev. M. L. Pontius will present the Rotarian boy and girl movement and will make a report on the Joliet convention.

SOME EXCELLENT SALAD RECIPES

Miss Gladys Goodale of Woman's College Gave Demonstration of Following Salads Before Members of Domestic Science Round Table Saturday.

At the meeting of the Domestic Science Round Table held last Saturday, Miss Gladys Goodale, instruction in domestic science at Woman's College, gave a demonstration of salads which was very interesting and profitable to the women present. Recipes for some of the salads demonstrated are given here with:

Three Minute Mayonnaise Dressing.

One t. salt, a little cayenne pepper, yolk of one egg; beat together.

Two T. lemon juice, 2T vinegar, 1 1/2 C. olive oil; beat with Dover egg beater until well mixed and add one-third of this at a time to the first mixture. Continue the beating without stopping until the dressing is thick.

Never use with a mild fruit as it covers the flavor.

Variations: Green mayonnaise—To mayonnaise dressing add juice of parsley and watercress. Mayonnaise with fruits and nuts. Mayonnaise with olives or pickles and nuts.

Thousand Island Dressing—Mayonnaise, chopped chives, pimento and green pepper, capers, broken walnuts and chili sauce.

French Dressing.

Four T. oil, 2 T. lemon or vinegar, seasonings. Shake together in bottle. Use especially with greens. For strong flavored fruits this may be used if a little sugar is added. If it is used with an oily fish, reverse the proportions of oil and lemon juice.

Variations: Dressing: French dressing; horseradish, and chili sauce.

Curry Dressing: French dressing and curry powder.

Claret Dressing: French dressing and claret.

Chili Dressing: French dressing and chili sauce.

Boiled Dressing.

One and a half T. flour, 1/2 T. salt, 1 T. mustard, 1 1/2 T. sugar, 1/4 C. vinegar. Mix dry ingredients and make a paste by adding vinegar; cook in double boiler 20 minutes.

Three-fourths C. milk, yolk of 2 eggs, 1 1/2 T. melted butter. Cook this in a double boiler and then add the above to this. May be used with any salad.

Variations:

Boiled dressing with chopped nuts and fruits.

Boiled dressing with chopped nuts and olives or pickles.

Boiled dressing with chopped nuts and shredded greens.

Boiled dressing with grated cheese.

Salad Greens.

Chives, dandelion greens, endive, chicory, lettuce, romaine, spinach, pepper grass, sorrel, watercress, parsley and nasturtiums.

Salads.

Tomato Jelly: To one tablespoon of gelatin add one-half cup of tomato and a little less than one pint of boiling water. Put in molds that have been rinsed with cold water. When solidified, remove from mold, and place on lettuce leaf. Remove center, fill with mayonnaise and insert parsley or pepper grass in the dressing for the Flower Pot Salad.

Cooked Dandelion Salad: After thoroughly seasoning until tender, drain and mold. Use fresh dandelion greens in place of lettuce. Garnish with slices of egg or egg balls and serve with French dressing.

Ham Mousse. To one tablespoon of deviled ham add one tablespoon of liquid gelatin and meat. When this has become stiff, fold in the beaten white of one egg. Place in a lettuce cup, garnish with slices of lemon, and serve with boiled dressing.

Rice Salad: Mold cooked rice in a cup and scoop out the center. Place this on radiating dandelion greens and green mayonnaise. Fill with macedoine.

Macedoine: Dice string beans, carrots, and beets, and add peas, celery or any vegetable. Mix in a little mayonnaise.

Potato Salad—Cube potatoes and mustard pickles, add sliced onion, chopped parsley and olives. Mix with a little boiled dressing and serve in a lettuce cup.

Monte Carlo Salad: Mix together grape-fruit and orange pulp and add diced apples. Serve on lettuce leaf and on four sides of the fruit mixture put oblongs of mayonnaise. From pimento cut a heart and a diamond, and from steamed prunes cut a club and a club and a spade. Put one on each oblong of mayonnaise and on one side put a stack of six slices of cooked carrot to represent coins.

Prunes in Salads: Prunes may be stuffed, after being soaked and steamed, with cottage cheese, mayonnaise, and nuts; with mayonnaise and nuts; and with other similar combinations. These are served in lettuce cups and are garnished with date and cream cheese balls.

Butterfly Salad: For individual serving—On a flat lettuce leaf place two halves of a slice of pineapple with their curved edges toward each other. Between these put a tender stalk of cooked asparagus, with a stuffed olive on the root end, to represent head and body of a butterfly. Slices of stuffed olives are put on the pineapple to represent the spots of butterfly's wings. Two thin strips of pimento represent the feelers of the butterfly. Serve with dressing in a dish.

Egg Cups: Cut a boiled egg in two and remove the yolk. Mix this with seasonings, grated cheese and mayonnaise. Make two mounds of this, put an egg half on each mound, and fill these with mayonnaise.

Lily Salad: Cut lengthwise strips from the small end of a hard boiled egg to its center. Remove yolk and mix well with boiled dressing. Replace in the egg shell. Cut off a little of the bottom of the egg so it will stand well on a lettuce leaf. Garnish with strips of pimento.

Banana Boats: Carefully remove banana from its skin and dice the pulp. Mix this with boiled dressing. Insert a lettuce leaf in the banana skin, fill with the fruit mixture and garnish with nuts.

Rice Salad I: Mix together boiled rice, chopped onion, seasoning and mayonnaise. Put on a lettuce leaf, surround with watercress and halves of hard boiled eggs, and top with thin strips of pimento. Serve with toasted fingers of stale bread spread with cheese.

Rice Salad II: Boiled rice 2 cups, celery 1/2 cup, nuts 1/2 cup, 1 tart apple, 1 green pepper and 1 small onion chopped fine. Serve in a lettuce cup with mayonnaise. Bleeding Heart Salad: From a slice of apple soaked in lemon juice cut the white part of the bleeding heart and from slices of beets, the two lobes. Serve on a lettuce leaf with mayonnaise dressing.

Vanderbilt Salad: Place a slice of pineapple on lettuce or nasturtium leaves. On this place two segments of an orange and on this two segments of a grapefruit. Fill the center with sorrel or watercress and dot with mayonnaise, whipped cream, and chopped nuts.

AVIATION CASUALTIES AT TEXAS FIELDS

Official Figures Just Made Public Indicate 106 Men Were Killed at Three Big Government Fields Near Fort Worth—Tail Spin and Nose Dive Responsible for Most Accidents.

Fort Worth, Texas, May — A hundred and six men were killed at the three big government aviation fields here between Nov. 15, 1917, and the recent close of aerial activities, according to official figures just made public. In the same period, the three fields now being closed turned out 1,475 finished aviators, most of whom were sent to the western front. A thousand commissioned aviators were also sent here from other schools to finish their gunnery course at Tullahoma field.

The statistics made public show that during the training period the actual flying hours at Carruthers field totaled 35,000, at Barron field, 26,608, and at Tullahoma field, 22,488.

The tail spin and nose dive were responsible for a large majority of the accidents, according to officers. In the entire training period not a single American cadet was killed on the first solo flight. This is attributed to the thorough instruction in ground work. Three British fliers were killed on solo flights.

While the tail spin and nose dive were chief factors in the fatality list, there were many other contributing causes. Captain Vernon Castle, the American dance interpreter, who had faced death numerous times over the German lines as a British aviator, swerved his machine sharply to avoid hitting another here. He lacked height for the maneuver, crashed and was killed.

The young son of General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, was killed at the gunnery field engaged in combat practice at a height of 2,000 feet. The wings of his machine became entangled with those of his opponent's plane.

Captain Robert Isett, of Providence, post adjutant at Barron field, fell from the greatest height 5,000 feet. Two men fell from their planes at great heights because of failure to strap themselves in.

WOULD PROHIBIT GRAIN SPECULATION

Winnipeg, Man., May — A bill prohibiting speculation in grain and other food products on Canadian grain exchanges has been prepared by the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association and submitted to its parliamentary representative at Ottawa, R. C. Henderson of MacDonald, Manitoba.

For several weeks there has been agitation for drastic legislation. The Grain Growers' association adopted resolutions declaring "there is a certain element on the grain exchange at Winnipeg who are able in a very large measure to control the grain trade, depressing prices to the producer when they see fit and boosting prices after they have gained control of the grain crop."

AMERICAN WOMEN DOCTORS IN BALKANS

Doctors From American Women's Hospital at New York Assisting Red Cross in Caring for Sick and Destitute—Some Have Received Decorations.

Nish, Serbia.—(By Mail).—Fourteen American women doctors are now in the Balkans, assisting the American Red Cross in its work of caring for the sick and destitute. These doctors are from the American Women's Hospital at New York and are located in Serbia, Montenegro and Albania. Six are in Serbia where the destitution and sickness is greatest. Some of the fourteen have received decorations or been cited for conspicuous service among the soldiers and refugees. They are:

Dr. Marjorie Burnham of Ash-tabula, Ohio; Dr. Mary H. Elliott of New York; Dr. Harriet M. Ger-vais of Dorchester, Mass.; Dr. Alberta M. Greene of Judith Bay, Mont.; Dr. Lulu Peters of New York; Dr. Marion C. Stevens of Reading, Mass.; Dr. Regina Flood Keyes of Buffalo, N. Y.; Dr. Mabel Flood of Elmira, N. Y.; Dr. Catherine M. Cook of Washington, Pa.

Dr. Catherine M. Cook, of Washington, Pa., and Dr. Dora E. Bowman, of Kansas City, Mo., are assisting the American Red Cross doctors in Montenegro; Dr. Nell G. W. Bartram of Huntington, Pa.; Dr. Mary J. Hyndman of Philadelphia and Dr. Sarah E. Foulks of Burlington, N. J., are doing similar work in Albania.

At the first call for help from Greece, Dr. Keyes came to Voden, near the Greek-Serbian frontier, where she set up a hospital. She was given a handful of medical supplies intended for Syria. The ship which was to supply her hospital never reached Greece. It fell a victim to a German submarine. With the crippled condition of transport thru Serbia it was impossible for the American Red Cross to get her the necessary equipment. She had no operating table, no sterilizers, no beds, no stoves, no nothing except her small kit of surgical instruments and a few pounds of medicines. A carpenter built an operating table of old dry goods cases. Dr. Keyes borrowed some iron beds from an abandoned military hospital. Old gasoline cans were made into stoves, stove-pipes, dishes, kettles, sterilizers and everything needed to aid in an emergency.

With these nondescript furnishings and with the aid of Dr. Mabel Flood, of Elmira, N. Y., and two American nurses, Dr. Keyes opened the first American hospital in Northern Greece.

When the French and Serbians began their memorable attack on the Bulgarians, which culminated in the collapse of Bulgaria, Dr. Keyes was asked by the French army authorities to accompany their troops as regimental surgeon. The plucky American physician served thruout the attack, treating hundreds of wounded officers and soldiers. Her work drew forth the warmest expressions of praise and thanks from the French and Serbian com-mands.

Dr. Keyes is now stationed at Monastir, Serbia, and is lending effective aid to the American Red Cross in caring for the sick and wounded soldiers who are returning to their homes from Austria and Germany.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is most instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought at last this olive-based tablet. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take out of the trouble and quickly correct it. They cure the liver at the expense of the stomach. Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "dullness" and that "icky" feeling come from constipation and disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded rain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 25c and 50c a box. All druggists.

Commissioner Martin was chosen president to succeed Dr. Wolt. Their judgment and in constant Tuberculosis League, endeavored to make the money at their disposal go as far as possible in combatting the dread disease among us.

So urgent was the need for funds that in November 1916, we unanimously decided to pay the monthly bills for the Free Clinic and the food for the Open Air school by anticipation warrants on taxes levied in 1916 and collectible in 1917.

By the summer of 1917, we, as trustees, along with all other Anti-Tuberculosis workers in the city saw that a municipal tax in the fight against tuberculosis was entirely inadequate—that if great and permanent headway was to be made against the White Plague, a county fund, larger in amount and available for extended work throughout the whole of Morgan county was a necessity.

Consequently, we passed a motion asking the city council not to levy the municipal tax the following fall if the county commissioners levied a county tax. The county tax was levied, the municipal tax was not levied and consequently, we, as trustees, have only the money of one year's tax receipts to account for.

The following motions passed by the trustees to govern the work undertaken may prove of interest.

I.—That patients for hospital care can be entered only upon the recommendation of the clinic doctors by clinic doctors we mean those who have taken the special examination issued by the state board of health on the care and treatment of tuberculosis.

II.—That all hospital treatment must conform to the standard published by the National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis.

III.—That physicians fees for calls made on patients cared for by this fund conform to the rate of the county physician's fees for such calls.

Naturally money spent to prevent tuberculosis seems better spent than in the care of terminal cases, but both phases must be looked after—so that while much of our fund was spent on the food for the children of the Josephine Milligan School, a good deal was used in caring for patients sick in their homes and also those given treatment and care in the especially prepared rooms at Passavant hospital. The salary of the nurse who gives all her time to Tuberculosis work in the city and the salary of the medical director of the clinic were paid something more than a year from our funds.

The following is a brief summary of our financial statement:

Disbursements.
Nurse's salary	$1,310.18
Medical director of clinic	335.00
Food for Josephine Milligan School	1,619.08
Clinic medicines and supplies	282.30
Care of patients in their homes and in Passavant hospital.	586.56

Wait for the New Hudson Super-Six Here Soon—Price $1975

Prompt Deliveries Assured Early Buyers—It is a Perfected Development of the Car You Know So Well

A new Hudson Super-Six is coming. It reveals how four years' experience with 60,000 cars has enabled Hudson engineers to free it from many of the annoyances regarded as inevitable to all cars. It embodies the qualities which men said would make it the greatest car known.

It Is Worth Waiting For

Production on large scale is now under way.

Dealers will have their demonstrating cars within a few days.

You must not fail to see the new Hudson Super-Six.

Think of the history of earlier models. They have made a place in every branch of motor car use that has not been matched.

The first Hudson Super-Six, four years ago, increased motor power by 72% without added weight. It retained all the simplicity of the six. It minimized vibration.

Proved In A Thousand Ways

You remember how endurance was proved. Nothing to equal Hudson Super-Six records of performance had ever been known. Most of those stand today as achievements that no other car has been able to match.

But one thing those feats did, you perhaps do not know. They showed ways for development of subsequent models that find their expression in the new car soon to be offered.

Hudson Motor Car Company Detroit, Mich.

Distributed by the Following in This Territory:

R. T. CASSELL

No. 8, West Side Sq.

Such a car could not possibly have come from any other organization. It takes years of experience to learn and develop the qualities we now offer.

The same engineers responsible for the first Super-Six have watched it in its service for 60,000 users and now offer the new Super-Six as the expression of their greater knowledge.

Isn't such a car worth waiting for?

Watch the papers for the arrival of the new Super-Six, then go see it.

The New Price Is $1975

Hudson production will be twice as large this year as last. Because of that the new price for the 7-passenger phaeton will be $1975.

Without the experience we now have such a car would have been impossible at an earlier time, regardless of the price at which it sold.

Still, as you know, the Super-Six has always been one of the world's finest cars. You hear that on all sides. It has led all other fine cars in sales.

There have never been enough to equal the demand. A like condition must surely obtain this year.

But those who buy early will get early delivery. They have the records of every Hudson Super-Six as an assurance of its value.

If you are on the point of buying a new car, go or telephone to your Hudson dealer. Perhaps he can tell you when you may see the new Hudson Super-Six.

VAST INCREASE IN MEAT PRODUCTION

America's Dressed Meat Production for 1918 Surpassed all Former Records—Three-Fourths of Enormous Increase Was in Pork and One-Fourth in Beef.

Washington, April 30.—American dressed meat production, including lard amounted in 1918 to 20,129,800,000 pounds—a quantity never before approached in magnitude by the livestock industry of this or any other country. The corresponding figure for 1917 was 16,217,300,000 pounds.

Three-fourths of this enormous increase was in pork and one-fourth in beef.

The meat surplus in 1918 was so great that extra export demands made little impression on it, although 1918 export shipments of meat and lard nearly doubled the 1917 figures—rising from slightly less than one and three-fourths billion pounds to slightly more than 3 billion pounds—and these figures do not include shipments to American military forces abroad.

The aggregate 1917 consumption of dressed meat and lard in the United States was approximately 14½ billion pounds, but in 1918 it rose to seventeen and one quarter billion pounds. This means, after allowing for increase in population, and addition of 23 pounds for every man, woman and child in the country—despite the food conservation campaign which in 1917 caused consumption to decline considerably.

Farmer a Big Factor

"While the people as a whole thru their abstinence averted the immediate crisis, it was the farmer who was the really big factor in the ultimate situation," says the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture. "The producer, of course, was expected to do his part, but he did it with such powerful effect that in a single year the meat shortage was turned into a pronounced surplus. Thus in 1918 there was not only meat enough to supply all foreign demands compatibly with the restricted shipping facilities, but a greatly enlarged quantity was available for the home consumption.

"To be sure, it cost the farmer more, much more; to feed his animals and get them to market. Likewise all other steps from producer to consumer became more costly, hence the high prices. But the unprecedented prosperity of the people probably consumed more meat during the past year than in pre-war times.

"The total number of cattle slaughtered in 1918 is estimated at 15,750,400 as against 13,723,900 in 1917. Their average weights were practically the same for both years, and the beef produced from them was 6,686,000,000 pounds in 1917 and 7,641,000,000 pounds in 1918. This was a remarkable achievement as it hardly would have been credited that beef growers could increase their production a billion pounds in one year.

Stupendous Results. "The hog matures quickly, therefore a much more rapid increase would be looked for than was the case with cattle. Even so, the results for 1918 can be described only as stupendous. The hogs marketed in 1918 numbered 69,854,700 as against 57,483,000 in 1917. Furthermore, the average weight was 135 pounds more per hog in 1918. Thus when the animals are turned into pork and lard we have a total production of 11,225,664,000 pounds in 1918 as against 8,478,289,000 pounds in 1917, an increase of 2,747,355,000 pounds, or 32.4 per cent, nearly one-third.

Striking increases in exports are also shown by the bureau. Beef shipments abroad in 1918 were 94 per cent more than in 1917—the chief 1918 items being 514,000,000 pounds of fresh beef and 141,000,000 pounds of canned beef. Exports of pork and lard in 1918 amounted to 2,279,287,030—which was 71.7 per cent more than the quantity sent abroad in 1917.

The bureau shows that in the aggregate more meat by far is eaten in the United States than in any other country in the world—although some sparsely settled countries raising much meat have a larger per capita consumption. It also says that there is room in the United States for a great expansion in the use of mutton and lamb.

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE

The following tribute to Mrs. S. E. Bingham, who passed away May 1, 1917, was written by the foster daughter of the deceased: Two years ago this first of May, Our loved one calmly passed away, Into the "Great Unknown" to stay. His will be done.

She lived thru many useful years, Sometimes in joy, sometimes in tears, And now she joins in Heaven's cheers.

With God's own Son.

She was passing into the "Beulah Land."

As the dear ones with her could understand, "Nearer to Thee" on that glittering strand.

Free from all care, "Rock of Ages cleft for me," In the "Home of the Soul," thru eternity;

Then we'll be all together, singing praises to thee, "Sometime, Somewhere."

Her beautiful life was not lived in vain; Now she merits the splendor of the glorious refrain, And that love born of Heaven with dear ones remain.

While she dwells with the blest, We would not call her back to earth, From the home she gained by the Savior's birth.

Let her body slumber beneath the turf; Her soul at rest, Her life's companion lingers here, To tread alone this earth so dear, But to cherish ever memories dear;

Thru faith in thee, My own Angel Mama bade her baby adieu, So God chose another, her work to pursue, Who proved a mother so kind and true;

His blessing to me, Our little one so dear to her, Speaks of a meeting that will occur, And in many ways to Grandma refer,

As to no other, We should all be thankful for the Mother Love As sweet and pure as the snow-white dove, Also for the happy reunion above;

With Mother. L. C. B.

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING.

The drawing of the proposed new high school building is on exhibition at the shoe store of Hopper & Son and may be seen in their front window. It makes a fine appearance and if completed according to plans and specifications it surely will be a structure of which the city may well be proud. The details necessary for bidders are expected in a short time and it is the earnest hope of the board and friends of the schools that the proposed structure may be completed with little delay.

BERLIN BANK HAD INCREASED BUSINESS

Military and Political Collapse of Country Did not Seriously Affect Reichsbank of Berlin—
Total Profits Surpass All Previous Records.

London. — (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The military and political collapse of Germany was not a costly experience for the Reichsbank of Berlin, according to copies of the annual report which have just reached London. There was an unexampled increase in money requirements, while the stock of gold decreased.

The total turnover was 3,345,000,000 marks, being 1,313,200,000,000 marks more than the enormous figures of the previous year. Gold stocks showed a total decline of 144,000,000 against 114,000,000 in 1917.

Money requirements found expression in a great increase in note circulation, the end of the year seeing 22,187,000,000 marks in outstanding notes as compared with 10,270,000,000 at the close of the year before. In addition to this market loan bills amounted to 10,242,000,000 as compared with 3,978,000,000 in 1917.

The bank had at its disposal foreign money to the value of 13,218,000,000 marks an increase of 5,230,000,000 during the period covered by the report. Total profits show the record sum of 814,000,000 marks against 364,000,000 in the previous year. Of this amount 330,000,000 was reserved for war losses. The net profit is given as 111,000,000 marks from which the stockholders received 15,600,000 marks in the form of a dividend of 8.68 per cent as compared with 8.72 per cent the year before. The imperial treasury received in all from the bank, 390,500,000 marks as compared with 207,000,000 in 1917.

MEDICINE MAN OF KICKAPOOS DEAD.

Douglas, Ariz., May 1.—Johnny Mine, medicine man of the Kickapoos, friend of numerous officials at Washington and canny negotiator at Washington for his tribe is dead, but his funeral will be held till six months, perhaps six years—hence when the money from his estate is available to buy presents for all the tribe. Then a dance will be held all night and the presents will be distributed at daybreak.

M. J. Bently business agent for the tribe says Johnny Mine's real name was Man-Me-Qua-Che, which means "leaning Tree." He represented the Kickapoos in all negotiations with the government. Mine had often proved more than a match for crafty white who had designs on the Kickapoos. He had been to Washington a number of times and on such trips always wore a Prince Albert coat and a high silk hat.

A pick of corn will be buried at his head to sustain him until he reaches the happy hunting grounds. There, say the Indians, will be much food awaiting Johnny, for during his long life he has killed a dog each spring and sent him along ahead for forage for game against the day his master arrived.

Mine was unmarried and leaves no immediate relatives. He had an 80-acre tract of alfalfa in Oklahoma said to be worth $10,000.

DESIRE TO INCREASE GERMAN EXPORTS

Berlin, May — The American Mercantile Interchange Company was recently organized in Berlin for the purpose of facilitating the resumption of commercial relations with United States. The company which is said to be headed by a number of leading German financiers and industrialists, proposes to carry on an exchange of finished manufactured products for raw materials on an extensive scale. The company sharply criticizes existing measures of the German government which tend to restrict export activities and points out that Germany is in position to obtain large quantities of foodstuffs and raw materials in return for commodities now ready for shipment.

GOV. YAGER SUBJECTED TO VOTE OF CENSURE

San Juan, Porto Rico, May — For criticising the legislature on the "lack of experience on the part of most members of the actual working of a government of this sort" in the last annual report, Governor Yager has been subjected to a vote of censure by the Porto Rican Senate.

The Governor's criticism was directed against the action of the legislature in taking a recess at the end of the first session for two months instead of adjourning sine die.
